

DIGISIZE COMMUTE 500

Digisize Commute 500 is the natural choice when you want to own the commuting journey across Stockholm, from the metro's busiest platforms to the most important bus routes throughout the entire A-region.

The network mirrors people's everyday movements: on platforms, at strategic entrances and exits, and along streets and key hubs where bus passengers travel through the city and out into the surrounding municipalities. With Digisize Commute you secure continuous presence across all our Digisize screens in Stockholm: both underground in the metro and above ground at key bus shelters, enabling you to reach a broad, urban and mobile audience every week at exactly the right moment.

Premium digital screens and the ability to run rich, motion-led content give your brand the impact to stand out, capture attention and drive clear business results. Make campaigns more relevant by adapting your messages to, for example, day of week, time of day, weather conditions or stock availability.
